Finally Spring

It took until the last week of April, but it’s actually starting to feel like spring. Yoga class has concluded and we have started spending more time outside. We’ve explored with bug catchers and have had fun with stomp rockets on the field. The kids have really enjoyed getting their hands dirty and exploring with worms and different types of bugs. We will also be doing more art activities and games outside to end our day; look for us on the playground when picking up after 5:00 p.m. We will also start visiting Warren Park on Fridays again if the weather is dry, be sure to check your e-mail for updates.

Since we will be spending more time outside helpful things to bring to after school are hats, water bottles and sunscreen. If you are sending your child with sunscreen and would like a teacher to remind them to apply it please check in and let us know. We will remind them when they come at dismissal.
