Happy New Year! The year is 2020. That’s it, just wanted to put that out there. The year 2020 always seemed so futuristic to me, but here we are with no flying cars, no time travel, and no leg room on planes for people over six feet tall. We hope everyone is coming back well rested, and had a fantastic, safe winter break.

Thank you so much to all that participated in WCCC’s Annual PJ Party! It was another success, both staff and children had a great time eating pizza, playing games, and watching movies in their PJ’s. More importantly, we were able to raise over $1400 to bring to the Dana Farber Foundation. Although it may not seem like a lot compared to the millions of dollars donated there, every bit helps, and these gift cards go directly to families that are there for treatment. We personally deliver the gift cards, visit the center, and the cards go straight to the families in the center. We are proud to be able to do this, and we couldn’t do it without your participation and support. Hi - Fives for everyone!

We are just about in the middle of our “stuck inside” months with the darkness and the cold. Thankfully, we have a creative and talented team to keep things interesting and engaging throughout the winter months. Eric is always coming up with different gym games and activities, it’s amazing how many different ways you can have children throw balls at each other. Neddie has been doing a lot of dance and theater activities with the kids, they love the Phunk Phenomenon group! Rachel has been continuing to come up with creative activities, thinking way outside the box, to keep the kids excited and engaged. Her use of different materials used in so many creative ways is so fun for the kids! We also have a new floating teacher who has been spending some time at Hardy with us, Tiana. She comes to us with a passion for crafts and jewelry making, so we are looking forward to her ideas as well!

As always, please call, email, or check in at pick up if you have any questions!

Matt, Eric, Rachel, Neddra
